U.S. Probation Officer Action:

In response to Mr. Barnard's non-compliance towards his Court imposed financial schedule, and in coordination with the Federal Public Defender's Office in the District of New Jersey, Mr. Barnard completed an updated financial investigation. As represented by the Defender's Office, Mr. Barnard stated his wife would "leave" if she was required to disclose her financial information, therefore, Mr. Barnard would not include her finances in the factoring of a revised payment schedule, and provided the following monthly income and expenses: $2700 per month for disability, from which $405 is deducted to pay the Small Business Association, $600 per month to his wife (to cover his share of mortgage), and approximately $650 per month for electric and gas utilities bills. The disposable income reported by Mr. Barnard was approximately $1,000 for food, commuting expenses and other basic needs. Mr. Barnard has agreed to make payments in the amount of $150 per month and a lump sum payment of $1,800 to address previous missed payments and did so on March 2, 2023. With respect to opening new lines of credit, Mr. Barnard stated he "didn't know" he wasn't permitted to open new lines of credit. It is the request of the U.S. Probation Office that Mr. Barnard's payment schedule be adjusted to reflect the agreed upon amount, and this notice serve as a written reprimand for his non-compliance. Should Mr. Barnard's financial circumstance improve, the Court will be promptly notified, and he will be expected to comply with the original payment schedule imposed by the Court.

Respectfully submitted,

SUSAN M. SMALLEY, Chief
 U.S. Probation Officer
